GOP Riot View

Governors Say Strong Laws Needed

NEW YORK (AP) Eight Republican governors say prompt, firm law enforcement is needed in preventing riots and they outlined a 60-point program for dealing with social injustice and lawlessness.

In presenting their "action program" to deal with "the tragic epidemic of riots," the governors charged Thursday the federal government had failed to provide adequate solutions for the nation's urban racial problems.

The governors were summoned by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller as chairman of the policy committee of the Republican Governor's Association to discuss means of easing racial tensions in American cities. Their report, issued after a day-long closed session, said the action program was designed to "inaugurate a new era of creative state leadership to meet a national crisis of social injustice and lawlessness." Michigan Gov. George Romney said he felt the most important recommendation was that dealing with prompt law enforcement.

The governors also recommended that the federal government "emphasize now the National Guard's responsibility to serve as a tactical force for maintaining order within the states as well as its responsibility in national defense.'

Besides Rockefeller and Romney those attending were Govs. John Love of Colorado, Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, John H. Chafee of Rhode Island, Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania, John A. Volpe of Massachusetts and Nils A. Boe of South Dakota

Their program urged a number of measures to deal directly with mob disorder, including pooling of police and firefighting manpower and equipment to make it available to a city hit by riots. Other proposals ranged from establishment of an urban action center to advise the states on urban programs to specific measures for improving life in slum neighborhoods.

Sees Hope For Pact With Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) - Ambassador William Foster disclosed today that he is rushing back to Geneva in expectation of a prompt agreement with Russia on a draft of a nuclear nonproliferation treaty and its presentation promptly to an 18-nation disarmament conference. Foster conferred with President Johnson about the matter

He had come in from Geneva

Wednesday to testify in Congress on appropriations and expected to stay for some time. But word came through, he told reporters, that the Soviet Union now is ready to agree on a draft-treaty — although there will be one major blank in it. This blank is on the issues of inspection and safeguards. The treaty and the discussions surrounding it have been a matter of negotiations for months. Laying a draft before the disarmament commission would give various other nations a chance to consider terms on which the two principal world powers have agreed.

And this would be a step toward eventual presentation of the treaty to the United Nations General Assembly for signature by member countries. Foster now plans to be back in Geneva by Sunday noon to confer with his opposite number in the Russian delegation, Ambassador Alexei Roschin.

But this conference appeared to be pretty much in the nature of a formality so far as early submission of a draft treaty to the commission is confirmed.

"We are in the process of the final solution of the problem,' Foster said.

Foster said that U.S. allies have kept abreast of the developments and discussions "and we had a green light to take this type of agreement" to the disarmament commission.

the Altadena area. "They were dead when they were put here," said Hamilton. 'There is no sign of a struggle.'

Governors Confer

Ozarks Plan Is Discussed

-The governors of Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Kansas met Thursday to plan the economic development of the Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas, the host for the meeting, said the Ozarka Regional Commission needs $200 million in the next five years. The development program will be similar in some cases to the federal government's development in the Appalachian region. Kansas was voted a member of the commission at the meeting. The state will not officially become a member until approval is received from the U.S. secretary of commerce. The governors said they expect approval. Gov. Robert Docking of Kansas said nine counties in the southeast corner of the state would be included in the development region. In addition to Rockefeller, Docking, Gov. Warren E.

Hearnes of Missouri and Gov. Dewey Bartlett of Oklahoma, the federal co-chairman of the commission, William McCandles of Washington, was present. McCandles said he did not think the problems of the cities could be solved unless jobs were created in the rural areas

Gov. Hearnes said he wants the staff to devote its time to merging economic development reports from Arkansas, Missouri and Oklahoma so that a definite program can be presented to Congress as soon as possible. "Everybody feels that we are

US Jets Blast Red Rail Span

Bridge Was Link To China

SAIGON (AP) -Striking again near the edge of Hanoi, U.S. Air Force jets hammered today at the Doumer highway and railroad bridge linking the North Vietnamese capital with suburbs across the Red River. The U.S. Command said they wrecked it.

The long bridge over the Red River is a vital link in the Hanoi-Haiphong transportation system that joins up with the railroad facilities leading to China, spokesmen said.

The raids were carried out by U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchief and F4C Phantom pilots. The command said complete bomb damage assessment was not yet available. There were no other details.

U.S. Navy planes struck a Hanoi power plant 1.1 miles from the center of the capital May 19. Today's attacks represented a renewed intensification of the air war over North Vietnam.

A U.S. Air Force Phantom jet returning from a combat mission was destroyed in a crash landing at the Da Nang Air Base. It surged out of control and smashed into two houses at the end of the runway, killing the navigator and two elderly Vietnamese civilians. The pilot survived. It was not announced whether the plane had taken part in the Hanoi raid.

'No Free Choice'

Robert F. Kennedy said today there is "mounting and distressing evidence" South Vietnam's military regime is interfering with free choice in that nation's coming presidential election.

The New York Democrat said such interference would be a betrayal of the cause for which 12,000 Americans have died.

And his New York colleague, Republican Sen. Jacob K. Javits, said the South Vietnam elections should "mark the beginning of an end of our commitment there." He said a new, elected government should set to work to take responsibility for its own security, and the United States should look toward disengagement.

Presidential elections are scheduled in Vietnam Sept. 3. Eleven tickets are entered, including a military pairing comprised of Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, chief of state, and Nguyen Cao Ky, now premier. Ky is running for vice president.

Kennedy charged that would-be candidates have been barred from the election because their views were deemed unacceptable; that opponents of the Ky regime have been jailed; that the presidential campaign- for action next week.

Probe Of Long By Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate ethics committee is probing legal fees shared by Sen. Edward V. Long and St. Louis lawyer Morris Shenker, a defender of jailed Teamsters President James R. Hoffa.

Long, a Missouri Democrat, turned over to the ethics panel Thursday a list of the legal fees he split with Shenker plus the names of clients he said were Chairman John Stennis, D-

Miss., said a staff check of the lists marked the next step in the committee's inquiry into accusations Long misused a Senate probe of wiretapping and other snooping by government agencies in an effort to help Hoffa. Shenker represented Hoffa in an appeal from a jury-tampering conviction. The appeal was based largely on the contention Hoffa's conviction was obtained through illegal use of wiretapthe government until Ky and CQHIEF OF State Nguyen V Thieu answered a letter they wrote Tuesday demanding assurance of "adequate security and transportation. A 22-stop trip began last Sunday, but was called off in Quang Tri, the first stop, because a reception committee and government cars were not on hand to greet them. sabotage their campaign.

Informed sources said the mass pullout, if it happened, would be accompanied by a denunciation of Ky and Thieu, charging harassment of civilian police harassment of civilian candidates and sabotage of the election process.

The civilian candidates and their representatives met in small groups all over Saigon today, discussing what action they should take and jockeving for position.

Says LBJ Planned Murder

HAVANA (AP) - Fidel Castro said Thursday night a new revolution in the United States will sprout from the Negro sector-"bent by daily oppression"—and called on the world's revolutionaries to support that "Rapprochement of the revolution of the United States and those of Latin America is the most natural thing. . . The revolutionary movement of the entire world should give it (the U.S. Negro revolt) its support,' Castro said.

Speaking for 3 hours and 40 minutes to the closing session of the Organization of Latin American Solidarity-OLAS- the Cuban prime minister also charged that President Johnson was responsible for a plot to kill him that failed.

He referred to statements by two of eight captured Cuban exiles paraded at two news conferanti-Castro military force in Florida had sent them on a mission that included assassination of top Cuban government officials. They said they had received training from the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency.

The 11-day OLAS conference ended without making public a resolution which delegate sources said condemned Communist countries that have financial agreements with non-Communist Latin American governments. The resolution, a slap at the Soviet Union, was approved in a secret committee meeting.

It had been expected that sponsors would not bring it up in open session because they feared a public display of disunity between partisans of Castro's hard line and leftists still faithful to Moscow.

Where's My Baby?

PERTH (AP) — Taxi driver Glen Lawson, 39, picked up a young woman and four young children in the suburb of Floreat. As the family climbed into his taxi, Lawson folded up the woman's pram and packed it in the trunk of the car. They had travelled only half a mile when the woman suddenly asked: "Where's my baby? I've got five children.'

Lawson pulled up quickly and opened the trunk. He pulled the pram out, unfolded it-and found the baby unharmed. Said a shaken Lawson: "I

Says The New Trend Is Good

MONTREAL (AP) — Ameriian anthropologist Ashley Montague says the feminine trend in men and the masculine trend in women are good things-both need it.

"Man has been in need of some of the traits we call feminine and women have been in need of some masculine traits." the 62-year-old Montagu said in an interview Thursday Montagu cited tenderness and the ability to love as desirable feminine traits and a spirit of adventure as a desirable masculine trait

Since these traits are taught, he said, "we can all learn to change in the desired direction.'

A native of Britain and resident of Princeton, N.J., Montagu became a naturalized U.S. citizen in 1940. He has a son and two daughters.

Aside from their desirable learned traits, women are the more important part of the species biologically, he said. "The only trait in which men are superior-if you can call it superiority—is they are more muscularly powerful.

Women, he continued, by using their intelligence to outwit male force, have become more intelligent. They are also constitutionally stronger.

Men are unconsciously afraid of this constitutional and intellectual strength and that is why 'women have been terribly badly treated by men through the ages," said Montagu.

He said the most important trait men and women must develop is the ability to love, and this is cultivated principally by women.

'Women are more basically humane by reason of the fact that they have been selected to minister to the needs of the increasingly long infancy of the human being." he said.

Most marriages are not a success, they are "difficult compromises," Montagu added.

Prisoners Are Given Vacations

STOCKHOLM (AP) - Sweden is experimenting with vacations for prisoners. This is part of a liberal correctional system which authorities believe is the right road despite escapes and repeaters.

'Our purpose is to try to make them better citizens, to socialize them," says Clas Amilon, director at the National Correctional Administration.

Following this concept, nine prisoners spent three weeks this summer at a camp where they were allowed to play badminton, row on the lake or wander down to the nearby village for a pack of cigarettes. Their wives or fiancees could live with them at the camp.

Amilon was happy with the results and looks forward to more vacations for more pris-

Vacations aren't the only form of respite from prison life. Two-day furloughs are permitted on a liberal basis. A prisoner usually becomes eligible after serving 10 months of his term. Most prisoners never reach the 10-month period. During 1966 one-third of the 9,641 convicts admitted served sentences under two months.

On occasion the sentences are short by the standards of other countries. A 20-year-old man with a previous record of assault and robbery was recently sentenced to 16 months for an assault that led to the victim's death.

Work is fundamental to the Swedish prison system. Some prisoners are housed in "open" institutions.

"An open institution," explains Amilon, "is an institution without walls, from which you can escape if you want. There are guards but they are unarmed. The escape possibilities are numerous. Despite all the liberality the escape rate in 1966 was 8.2 per cent, but a large number of these were prisoners who did not return from furloughs, or returned late. Special research is being done on this question, Amilon said. and research is needed on the problem of recidivism-those convicted a second time.

Neither the number of fugitives or recidivists warrants a change in the thinking behind the present correctional system, according to Amilon. He feels half the institutions should be open instead of one-fourth as at present.

Must Place Woman Back On Record

KANSAS CITY (AP) - The Missouri Department of Health and Welfare must restore an 88year-old Nodaway County widow to the active welfare rolls, retroactive to Nov. 5, 1965.

The Kansas City Court of Appeals ruled Thursday that the agency had acted arbitrarily and capriciously in cutting off old age assistance to the widow on that date.

The state agency contended that the woman owned a home worth more than $750 and had transferred the property to a nephew without getting fair compensation for it. The appellate court said records showed the property was transferred legally, and the woman had no income

The court noted that the woma had a heart ailment, was almost blind, and was confined to wheelchair in a Nodaway County nursing home. Her expenses were $157 a month, on which no payments had been made since she was dropped from the welfare rolls.

Kiwanians Hear Talk On Health

The proper disposal of solid wastes was the subject of a talk by Donald Townley, Director of Region 6. United States Public Health Service, Kansas City, before the Sedalia Kiwanis club meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

The speaker illustrated his remarks with a colored movie descriptive of old and new disposal methods. He commented on Sedalia's progress in this field by the land fill method, techniques of which here, as elsewhere, can be improved. From a sanitation standpoint and the minimization of air or water pollution Townley expressed preference for the land fill methods. Demand for improved techniques related to solid waste disposal in communities will come only as a result of the development of public interest in such procedures, he said. The speaker was introduced by Herb Taylor, program chairman

Dead GI's Returned To U.S.

SAIGON (AP) — The bodies of Americans killed in combat in the Vietnam war are being returned to the United States with dignified handling and the highest priority, U.S. officers

'Any remains recovered are returned to the United States," says Maj. Joe R. Caldwell, 50, of Oakland, Calif., the officer in charge of the U.S. Army mortuary at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut airport. "There is no burial out here.

U.S. troops make every effort to recover the bodies of their fallen comrades, and in several cases have suffered serious casualties while trying to remove the dead from the battlefield. During World War II and the first part of the Korean War, U.S. dead were interred in temporary cemeteries in foreign lands, but in 1952 the armed forces in Korea began a program of returning the dead to their next of kin. It has been that way since the beginning of American involvement in the Vietnam war.

'The mortuary here is conducted much as a funeral home would be in the states," says Ernest Demester, of Nashua, N.H., a civilian mortuary officer and a licensed mortician.

Bank Gets New Vice President

By JOY MILLER

AP Women's Editor NEW YORK (AP) — In 1919 when Virginia Furman became New York's first woman bank officer-an assistant secretary in charge of the women's department-her bank, Columbia Trust Company, took a quarter-page newspaper ad to celebrate the occasion.

Just the other day-nearly a half-century later-New York got its first woman vice president of a major commercial bank. Did the company, Bankers Trust, buy space to bandy Elizabeth Brady's name about the business community?

No. Her elevation received the standard treatment—a one-page release on the appointment was sent to newspapers. And a bunch of the girls took her to dinner

That's how matter-of-fact the financial world is becoming about the heady rise of women in its midst.

No great stir, either, greeted the announcement, hot on the heels of Miss Brady's appointment, that Chase Manhattan Bank had its first woman branch manager.

But no sooner had Madeline Burgess settled herself at the manager's desk in the branch office on New York's chic East Side than the Federal Reserve Bank of New York got into the act. This largest and most influential of the 12 districts in the Federal Reserve System promoted Madeline H. McWhinney to become its first woman assistant vice president.

Each has worked long, hard and faithfully for her company to get where she is.

'The thing that thrills me most about my appointment," says Miss Brady, whose fellow workers and preferred customers call her Liz, "is how it has lifted the morale of the women in the bank. They realize that if I can do it, they can do it. Even the little miniskirted kids who don't seem serious about anything are absolutely delighted.

Miss Brady—she was married 10 years ago to Philip C. Horter, a consulting engineer, but she uses her maiden name professionally—is a well-groomed, iomfortable woman who has never forgotten that she started with the company as a stenographer during the depression

In the subsequent 33 years her progress, to secretary, to platto assistant treasurer, to associant vice president and, on June 20, to vice president, has has been steady-but slow enough to make friends instead of jealous enemies along the way. It also helps explain why the young stenos call her "a real doll" behind her back.

She believes "women have as much a mind for money as men" and proudly points out that women now hold jobs in every phase of banking.

As vice president she is both an account officer, handling law firms, charitable foundations and a couple of museums, and a full loaning officer, which the bank considers something of a breakthrough for a woman.

Culture Without A Fancy Hall NEWYORK (AP)-A drama center has opened in a public housing project here intended as pilot project for a new approach to culture. Opening the three-story brick building in East Harlem, Mayor John V. Lindsay said he had pledged to "cut out the ham business on stage," adding that "huge buildings, massive complexes and vast expenditures" are not necessary for artistic endeavor.

Later this afternoon?"

'Does anyone doubt that it is only a matter of time before the odds catch up with this chamber and violence visits us again?"

The event that agitated Jacobs was the intrusion into the House gallery Monday of 75 to 100 Harlem demonstrators demanding rat control legislation. Some battled fiercely with Capitol police—one of whom remains hospitalized-before being ejected. The House had adjourned minutes earlier.

One demonstrator promised the group would return next week-with rats.

Jacobs and Rep. Ken Hechler, D-WVa., among others, want some protection.

'The galleries," Hechler said, "should be enclosed with soundproof, transparent covering, with the floor debates piped into the galleries. Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, went Hechler one better. "There ought to be a plexiglass shield around the gallery," Gross told a newsman, "and there ought to be a wire mesh dropped from the ceiling so you couldn't throw grenades down into the House.' But there are other members of Congress who take a cooler view- and one, Rep. George H. Fallon, D-Md., speaks with some authority. Fallon was wounded March 1, 1954, when Puerto Rican fanatics opened fire with pistols from the southwest gallery into a nearly full chamber. Five congressmen were wounded-one seriously. Fallon, who was shot through the hip, is the only one of the five still in Congress.

They talked about this glass shield then, too," Fallon recalled to a newsman. "But I just don't like the idea of separating the people in the galleries from the members of Congress. Why, at that time, Congress had met for 150 years without a disturbance. We take so many risks in our everyday lives much greater than sitting in the House of Representatives. 'If they decide more security is needed, let them put in more policemen.

The drawling Tennessean who heads the Capitol police force, James M. Powell, is a deputy chief of the Metropolitan Washington) Police Department.

'It would be much safer if there were some protective shield around the chambers, Powell said. "But one of the things that really bothers me is that people often are allowed on the floor just before a session. Supposing they didn't want to leave? Or supposing they left something behind?' Visitors who are not on guided tours must present tickets from members of Congress for admission to the galleries. Reporters who occupy the galleries immediately above and behind the speaker of the House and the president of the Senatemust have special press accred-

But almost anyone can wander into a congressman's office, say "I'm from your district," and gain admittance to the galleries. And the Puerto Ricans who opened fire 13 years ago were on a guided tour.

The best security the government can dream up is enforced whenever a President addresses a joint session of Congress in the House chamber. The Secret Service protects him-and passes to the galleries are hard to

But those sessions must be a security officer's nightmare. Bunched in a small space are the President, Vice President, House Speaker and President Pro-Tem of the Snate. Facing them a few feet away are members of the Cabinet and the Supreme Court.

Nugents To Return From Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Johnson more than anyone else is enjoying the two-week visit of his infant grandson to the White House. First thing every morning, the Tri-City President takes little Patrick Lyndon Nugent into his bed and props his grandson on the pillows for a breakfast visit.

"He's the only one who gets up early around here." the Parents Luci and Patrick J. Nugent are to return from the Bahamas this weekend to retrieve their offspring

The President and the First Lady have been buggy-walkers and baby-sitters for their only grandchild. Passing tourists have seen the baby with Mrs. Johnson or Nurse Mary Gfeller on the White House South Lawn.

But 7-week-old Lyn sleeps too much to suit the President, who sneaks high-level luncheon guests in for a glimpse of his napping grandson.

The baby has been trotted out for photographers and reporters from the day he arrived. He slept or yawned through most of those encounters to the amusement of his grandfather.

Johnson, who says he's "very fond of children," couldn't wait when Lyn arrived July 31 to. take the baby off to a birthday party for another namesake-1-year-old John Lyndon Valenti, son of former presidential assistant Jack Valenti.

Though Luci was there, the President insisted on carrying his grandson about the whole time amid the excited party crowd of 25 small youngsters. Luci complained the baby was exhausted because grandpa 'bounces him, tickles him, teases him and squeezes him.'

Eye on Traffic Routes

Traffic flow of motor vehicles on Sedalia streets has undergone numerous changes since near completion of the Urban Highway system.

A question arises whether the city's traffic ordinances have kept pace with these alterations especially those affecting commercial vehicles.

Apparently not because the Citizens Traffic Committee has on its agenda a proposal to study truck routes and make recommendations to city council.

There was a time years ago when truck traffic was trivial compared to what it is today and yet council considered it necessary then to adopt controls designating routes and streets for their use. Twenty-five sub-sections spelled out the routes. Some years later seven more sub-sections were added.

This gives an idea of the importance attached to regulations of commercial vehicles which are defined as any motor propelled vehicle with a gross weight when loaded of more than 8,000 pounds or with an over-all length in excess of 30 feet; but not including panel or pick-up trucks.

Noticed recently were trucks ranging the streets of Sedalia without due regard to designated routes. This may have been caused by some drivers' ignorance of Sedalia's restrictions, or they became misdirected coming through the city.

Instances have occurred in the past when truck drivers who prefer to keep moving at a regulated pace play a game of strategy to dodge a long line of traffic ahead and get around slower moving vehicles by turning off the highway and cutting back through residential sections.

That is one reason why an organized plan for routing trucks through Sedalia became necessary in the past to protect residential streets from a weight-beating they can't stand. Commercial vehicles, especially the noisy ones that disturb citizens' slumber at night, have no business roaming loose on any street of a driver's choosing.

No doubt there should be revisions or additions to ordinances designating commerical vehicle routes. This will come about by a careful study now underway by the traffic committee.

Meanwhile, existing controls should be enforced except in such instances, if any, the old route designations may be so outmoded as to appear ridiculous in the enforcement thereof.

Mystery Employee on U.S. Payroll

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON - Over the years, a number of elusive employees have turned up on the congressional payroll of Rep. John McMillan, D-S.C., and have drawn their government pay without ever being seen by others in his office. These mysterious employees now seem to have vanished without a trace.

The only one this column has been able to track down apparently died before he went to work for

The House payroll records show that George Hall of Marion, S.C., was paid $1,173.90 for working in McMillan's office from June through November 1943. He turned up again on the congressman's office payroll from June 1946 through February 1947, this time collecting $2,949.61.

The only George Hall recorded as living in Marion during the past 30 years died in 1938. Marion tax records list no George Hall after 1938. The Hall families in Marion know of no other George Hall who has lived there.

The departed George Hall had a dramatic death. His wife was the first to pass away. He brought her to her home in Virginia to be buried, then he fell dead on her grave. Their four children left Marion David Hall, who works at the Auto Service and Supply Shop in Marion, remembers the George Hall family. He is positive that the parents died and the children moved away before Pearl Harbor. Neither of the two Hall families now living in Marion has any memory of another George Hall coming to town in the 1940's. This squares with the town records.

Yet the George Hall whom McMillan placed on the public payroll in 1943 and again in 1946-47 was recorded as residing in Marion. His pay checks, however, were delivered to McMillan's office.

The congressmen could not be reached for a comment. Meanwhile, this column is trying to locate other people on his payrool who, like George Hall, apparently never showed up at McMillan's offices in Washington, D. C., or Florence, S. C., to do any

-LBJ's BABY BIRDS-

A White House workman started up a ladder the other day to remove a bird's nest from a cornice outside President Johnson's office. Inside the nest were three scrawny, wee baby birds.

Before the workman reached his destination he was intercepted by a messenger, who instructed him to leave the bird's nest alone until the babies were big enough to fly away.

The order came from the President of the United States, who had been peering through the French doors of his office.

The department faces three major problems, one of which is an inheritance from the old planning office. The legacy is a waiting list of cities wishing to apply for federal programs. Preston says 35 cities currently are waiting ands adds, "Quite frankly, we have all the work we can handle right now.'

ANOTHER PROBLEM-the complaint of most agencies-is more money. Williams notes, "This is kind of a new deal and there's a certain amount of legislative resstance." He feels the scope of the program could require greatly increased appropriations and believes that, in the future, it will receive it if the Legislature is satisfied with the department's record.

Finally, there is the difficulty of finding personnel. A staff of 42 has been authorized and 28 positions will be filled by members from state and regional planning. But 14 new employees must be found. With full emploument and the high salaries of private industry, however, state agencies normally have difficulty hiring highly trained staffs. "People of a technical nature are difficult to hire." Preston says. "We are looking for persons who are expert in federal programs, urban renewal, water, and sewer systems, building codes . . ." His voice trails off and he says, quietly, "Tt's not going to be an awfully easy task. It may take time.

At least 35 cities on a waiting list doubtlessly would like to hurry the clock.

When President Johnson called for a National Day of Prayer for Reconciliation and urged the religious leaders to offer prayers for racial peace, I was struck with a certain dismay and apprehension. It seemed that instead of reaching out to the tragic needs of our urban society, we were beating a retreat into the sanctuary of religion, hoping that God would not forget us, although we regularly had failed him. That may be a harsh judgment, but does our record support a more lenient criticism? For the last two decades, the churches have been ignoring the ghetto and inner city. There are a few outposts of vigorous and lively witness, but generally the money and power and prestige has been invested in the slopes of suburbia. Whenever churchmen have rallied around the cause of racial justice, they have faced bloody punishment from their own

In Rochester, N.Y., the Council of Churches supported Saul Alinksy's FIGHT organization which had the primary controversy with Eastman Kodak over jobs for Negroes. Although this year-long agitation has finally been resolved, the Council of Churches lost $22,000 in contributions and cern. But as the predominantly white community is called upon by a white president to pray for peace, I recalled that incident where the disciples sought to heal a very sick youngster. They failed and the desperate family turned to He healed the unfortunate victim, restoring his sanity and well-being. When the disciples asked why they were unable to overcome the evil spirit that was destroying the young man, Jesus replied, "This kind never comes out except by prayer and fasting." (Matthew 17:21).

Only by the total spiritual commitment of prayer, love and intense faith would this evil spirit yield. The disciples had not, and most of us have not, achieved such a singleminded devotion. Unfortunately, our Day of Reconciliation seemed like prayer by the whites and fasting for the Negroes. Our family attended services at St. Peter's Lutheran Church in New York on the Sunday set aside by the President for Prayer and Reconciliation. I was startled, with many others, to hear the Epistle lesson for the day (selected a year in advance in liturgical churches) read from Luke 19:41-47.

And when he drew near and saw the city, he wept over it, saying, Would that even today you knew the things that make for peace!

But they are hid from your eyes.

When the President called for the Day of Prayer, he also announced an 11-man Special Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders. But I wonder if we really need another study any more than we need another Senate hearing or a new church pronouncement. We have heard and studied and pronounced while rats roam and children cry and Detroit burns.

Whitney Young Jr. isn't a preacher or the president but he said it for both when he remarked, America has to decide whether it is going to exterminate or liberate the Negro.

We have had our day of prayer and reconciliation. This is in keeping with the example and teaching of Christ. But let us remember that He always followed prayer with action, -petitions became power, and people were changed in unusual and wonderful ways.

So let the bankers pray about finding new channels of mortgage and housing money, let the unions and employers startle us with new hope for jobs, let the educators and teachers initiate new programs, and let the churches stop running and start serving Christ in the ghetto. He is there waiting for them. When this happens, a president won't have to call for prayer and reconciliation—he can simply applaud

Lose Patience With De Gaulle

By JAMES MARLOW AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) - For almost a decade French President Charles de Gaulle has been walking a fragile tightrope although with his selfconfidence it probably seemed as sturdy as a concrete highway.

It's getting frayed as he gets older. He is 76. Yet his presidency has another six years to go. He has done historic service for France but already is talked of as a man who belonged in another century. The French commentator, Robert Aron, said

De Gaulle has a "Napoleonic or Sun King concept and shows even when he claims to be an innovator he is often a reactionary. Former President Harry S. Truman had the same idea four years ago saying De Gaulle sounds "more like the same old Napoleon brandy with a strong dash of Machiavellian cynicism. He is in any event over a century too late. De Gaulle can be crude and gracious but he never a "strong passion for abasement.

Most recently he has been calling for American withdrawal from Vietnam although it was De Gaulle who, immediately after World War II, sent French troops into Vietnam to reoccupy it as a colony. And out of that grew the war which has been going on since, even though the French were defeated and ousted.

He sided with Moscow and the Arabs against Israel in the Juen Mideast war. And here are some other things done by this Frenchman who still calls himself a reliable ally:

He banned the British from the European Common Market; refused to agree to a nuclear test ban treaty; advocated the neutralization of Southeast Asia; recognized the sovereignty of the Red Chinese over mainland China; crippled the North Atlantic Treaty Organization by pulling his troops from its command; appealed to West Germany and other European countries to assert their national independence and escape any domination by the United States.

Yet, he has proposed France as the likely leader of a "third world." Despite his ego, which increasingly looks more eccentric than unusual, France owes him an endless debt.

He was the symbol of French resistance and revival in World War II. And in 1958, when he returned to power which he has held since, France was rlose to civil war. He snatched it out of chaos.

But despite all this he has failed to assure orderly succes-sion or stability for France when his presidency is up, which won't be until 1973. He himself predicted what he thought lies ahead: "After me, a mess.

Democrat Pickups

At the meeting of a civic club one day a man who sells farm machinery insurance decided that, because there was no eating place at the small town he was headed for, he had better eat before he left.

Just before he got to his destination he saw that the thrashers were at a farm and they were about to have dinner. Here he could see most of the farmers he wanted to see, he thought, so he stopped in.

There were long tables of typical country food and although he told them he had already eaten the host farmer was so insistent that finally, although it was just an hour after his previous meal, he sat down with them and ate again. After leaving there, he was looking for a certain man and went over to a farm house. He did not find the man he was looking for but he knew the man who lived there. Here, too, there were thrashers and food. He tried again to refuse an invitation to eat but these typical Missouri farm families don't give up easily-they want you to eat. So he finally settled

Before his journey ended, however, the man had run into two more places where there were thrashers and food, but by this time he was completely out of room and simply had to refuse, but it was a day of feasting everywhere it seemed and he was sorry it all came in one day.

"No wonder," commented a fellow club member, "you had a heart attack and had to go on a diet."

Taxpayers Ask IRS

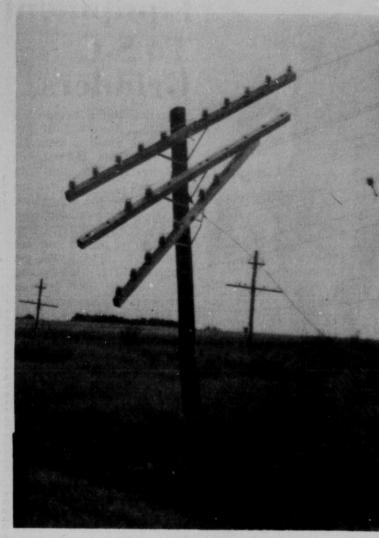

Q - My husband died early last year. I know I can file a joint return for the year but what do I do about my withholding status where I work?

A - For withholding purposes you are considered married for the year of your husband's death; also for the two years following, provided you qualify as a surviving spouse.

Q - I just retired on disability and receive a pension from my company. Is this taxable?

A - It all depends on the kind of pension plan your company has. Generally speaking, your pension would probably qual 'y for treatment as a sick pay until you reach normal retirement age. Up to $100 a week may be excluded as sick pay. After you reach normal retirement age, your pension may or may not be taxable depending on whether you contributed any part of the cost.

Astros Worried By Jones' Bat

Associated Press Sports Writer Billy Hitchcock was worried about Mack Jones' arm, but the Houston Astros are more concerned about his bat.

Atlanta Manager Hitchcock rearranged his entire outfield Thursday night so Jones' ailing arm would have less work to do. Jones responded by hitting a pair of homers and a two-run double, driving in five runs in all as the Braves pounded Houston 10-2.

miseries for two years and, until Thursday's game, had missed a week because of them. But a solo homer in the third inning, a two-run shot in the seventh and then the double in the eighth are likely to make him forget his problems for a

AKRON, Ohio (AP) - Rex Baxter Jr., with only one tournament victory to show for his 10 years as a pro, is in an unfamiliar but pleasant position.

Baxter In

Pleasant

The 31-year-old Texan took a three-stroke lead into today's second round of the $100,000 American Golf Classic.

Baxter, who offhand couldn't remember the last time he held a lead in a tournament, shot a four-under-par 34-32-66 Thursday over the 7,180-yard Firestone Country Club course which had his fellow pros moaning and groaning.

Rains, a new watering system and 20-mile-per-hour wind gusts had the lengthy layout playing at its very toughest.

course," said the happy Baxter. Baxter's only tour victory came in the 1963 Cajun Classic. Only six others in the field of 124 golfers managed to break par and all came in with 69s. They were George Archer with 35-34, Bill Collins 36-33, Bill Martindale 36-33, Jack McGowan 34-35, Kermit Zarley 36-33 and Randy Glover 36-33.

Only Glover in that group has a tournament victory this year, and that came in the Azalea Open, while Zarley is the top money winner and ranks 31st on the list.

Some of the lads who are expected to apply the pressure to Baxter were another shot be-

Grouped at 70 and matching par were National Open champion Jack Nicklaus; Arnold Palmer, the current leading money winner with $118,000; Doug Sanders; Gardner Dickinson; Bobby Nichols; Johnny Pott; Labron Harris and Ken Still Forget golf, bicycling, touch football, badminton. There's nothing available to equal a basketball hoop and backstop to give the varied, vigorous and regular exercise needed in this sit-down world.

A few minutes each evening is guaranteed to counteract television flab.

 A flat cement or macadam surface, placed anywhere because it need not be any specific size.

A suspended backstop with hoop and net.

Those are the essentials for an outdoor, personal gym that is inexpensive, efficient and compact. You won't have to travel miles or pay a fee to use the facility. It's always right there and can be used most of the year.

It isn't all chucking at the basket, either. There are some good games to play. Ask a youngster.

Best is a pickup game which can be played by two people or on up. They call it "Half Court" in some parts of the country. Rules are as close to regular basketball as possible. There's no referee, of course, so it requires agreeableness among all parties in judging fouls. The one concession to having only one basket is that the opposing "team," when gaining possession of the ball after a missed shot, has to retreat to the back of the court before working the ball in for its attempt.

One game—some kids call "Around the World," others 'Chance''—is something like Parcheesi with opponents advancing around specific shooting spots in the form of a semicircle. If a basket is missed, there's a choice of a "chance" or hold your posi-tion. If you take the chance and make a basket, you get another bonus shot. Miss and you go back to "start."

There's a "21" game, so named because the first to score 21 wins. Players take turns shooting, first a freethrow from the foul line, then a free-style shot. Free-throws

count two and other baskets

Any number can play "Strike." Three strikes (misses) and you're out. Some localities, as you miss you pick up a letter in the word "horse" until you're out. Always logical, the kids call that version "Horse."

If you don't already have a back yard basket, you can make your own backstop with a piece of marine plywood, braced. Most lumber dealers have inexpensive specials on butterfly-shaped backstops and hoops.

Use bracing of wood to attach to any part of the house, though a pole is even better. Regulation high school and college basket height is 10 feet.

There's one catch. If you the backstop two for running under the basket. This exercise pastime is recommended for young adults, particularly, when they discover their abdomens are beginning to bulge. Include the gals, too, because they can compete on more even terms than in other exercise games such as touch

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers : A few weeks ago vou printed a questionnaire which was sent to vou by a Memphis teen-ager. I felt it was a waste of newspaper space and I was deeply disappointed that Ann Landers, who has consistently shown such good judgment, saw fit to publish such trash.

I hope you will print my questionnaire which is infinitely more meaningful and constructive. Just sign me "A Parent Who Dearly Loves You.'

Here is the guide for scoring: If you can answer "yes" to five of these questions you are a good teen-ager. If you can answer "ves" to seven or more of these questions you have excellent character. If you can answer "yes" to nine or more of these questions, you are, as the kids say, "out of sight."

1. Do you have a true friend of the opposite sex whose friendship you value as much as your best friend of the same

2. Can you be trusted 100 per cent with a confidence?

3. Have you ever done a good deed and not told anyone about

4. Have you ever received too much change and told a clerk who otherwise would not have been aware of his error?

5. Have you ever admitted telling a lie and apologized for

6. Have you ever gone out of your way to make an unpopular kid feel at ease?

7. Do you remember ever having thanked someone for criticizing you?

8. Have you ever pointed out something good about a person when everyone else in the group was tearing that person apart?

9. Have you ever declined to take credit for something and pointed out that the person who deserved the credit was someone other than yourself?

NCE

10. Have you ever listened patiently to an old person and pretended to be interested. even though you were bored out of your mind?

11. Have you ever done something you would rather not have done because you wanted to serve as a good example for a younger brother or sister?

12. Do you look forward to the responsibility of love and marriage, building a home and raising a family?—MRS. T. T. OF KLAMATH FALLS. OREGON

Dear Mrs. T. T.: Thank you for a superb questionnaire. It is far superior to the one sent by the Memphis teen-ager because it accentuates the positive and suggests some worthy goals. I appreciate your sending it ot

Dear Ann Landers: Why are people so narrow-minded? A few weeks ago all sorts of crazy super-patriots whipped themselves into a lather because somebody burned the American flag. Why don't you tell those idiots to look up the rules. They will find that the proper method of disposing of the American flag is to burn it. Thank you for helping to educate the rioting. ignoramuses.-HIP HATTIE

Dear Hat: Did you include yourself among the 'ignoramuses?" If you didn't you should have.

The flag burning incident you refer to was a flagrant act of desecration: It was a vicious demonstration of hatred for America. When "the book" says burn the flag it means burn it in private, Stupid.

Unemployment insurance Missourians continued a seasonal decline from June to July, according to a report released today by Herman Julien, Director of the Missouri Division of Employment Security.

The benefit payments for July of 1967 totaled $2,034,644 while the payments in June of 1967 totaled $2,339,592. The July benefit payments were for 59,159 weeks of unemployment as compared to 69,983 weeks of unemployment in the previous unemployment insurance payments, both initial and continued claims, showed only of the U.S. 7th Infantry Division a minor increase from the June figure of 111,027 to 114,495 in

During the month of July, determinations were made on 6,499 disputed claims. Of this number, 2,923 were denied benefits for one of more weeks due to ineligibility of disqualification under provision of the Missouri State Statutes

An additional $90,888 was paid to former Missouri workers now living in other states, a decrease of $6,272 from the previous month.

In addition to the regular state program, Missouri's exservicemen and former federal civilian workers were paid unemployment benefits during July in the amounts of $58,238 and $49,194, respectively.

Here is an office-by-office tabulation of unemployment insurance benefit payments during July 1967 for this area. Including the amount of $90,887.81 paid to persons now residing in other states who earned wage credits in Missouri:

Clinton $20,525.80. Lexington $38,440.38. Marshall $23,219.05. Sedalia $34,870.19.

The attacks were the first major border incidents in the American sector since three Americans were killed July 16 when their position just below the demilitarized zone was overrun by a group of about 10 North Koreans. Fifteen Americans have been killed in five major border clashes reported in the American sector since last November.

Fighters Down 2 Red Jets

SAIGON (AP) - U.S. Navy fighter-bombers shot down two MIG21 jets over North Vietnam today in the first dogfight in two weeks, the U.S. Command announced.

The command also announced that 40 Vietnamese civilians were killed and 36 were wounded when U.S. Army helicopters returned enemy ground fire in the Mekong delta nine days ago. It said the civilians were in a "large group" which was firing on the helicopters.

The Soviet-designed MIG21s, the most advanced plane in North Vietnam's air force, were brought down by air-to-air missiles fired by F4C Phantoms from the carrier Constellation.

The latest confirmed kills were the first since July 21 when Navy pilots from the carrier Bon Homme Richard the jury was Jack downed three of the earlier model MIG17s. The score now stands at 82 confirmed MIG kills for U.S. pilots and 20 American planes downed by the Communist interceptors in aerial combat Cown. over the North.

Field reports said the civilians killed and wounded by the American helicopter gun crew Aug. 2 were in a crowd of peasants returning from the rice fields and that a Viet Cong force mingled with them as it withdrew after overrunning a government outpost.

The U.S. Command said a "U.S. Army light helicopter fire team" - believed to number two or three helicopters - was supporting the militia outpost 70 miles south of Saigon and 'received permission to return enemy fire being received from a large group.

In the ground war today, significant fighting subsided again after the fierce battle Wednesday between troops of the 1st Air Cavalry Division and North Vietnamese forces in the Song Re Valley of the central lowlands, 330 miles north of Saigon.

The general lull in major fighting in recent weeks was eflected in casualty figures released today by the U.S. Command. American casualties last week-146 killed in action, 1,064 wounded and 14 missing or captured—were the third lowest in six months although a slight increase over those of the week

The building, which will be completed in about 60 days, will be 5,000 square feet and will more than double the space now available. It is located west of the Parkhurst Co., and a building has been moved out of the area for the construction of the new building which will house the personnel of the national field program who will direct and supervise dealers of the organization. There are about 2500 stores in communities over the country.

Moving of the headquarters is the result of the acquisition of the Nationwide Trailer Rental System by William R. Parkhurst, H. Mike O'Connor and a group of other people.

The plans are to supply enlarge and service the field portion of the company and number of men and their families, both personnel at the new office and in the field will be headquartered in Sedalia.

Trooper Replaces Southwick

Trooper Sam E. Morris, 24, of the State Highway Patrol, has assumed dutes in the Sedalia area. He was transferred from Lee's Summit, Troop A Headquarters, taking the place of Trooper William Southwick who resigned last June.

Trooper Morris was appointed to the Patrol in Jan. 1, 1966, and after completing his training was assigned to Troop A and stationed at Lee's Summit.

He graduated from the Boonville high school, Boonville, and attended Central Missouri State College at Warrensburg. Prior to being appointed to the Highway Patrol he was employed by the Hubert Fiberboard Co., Boonville.

Trooper Morris and his wife, Charleyne, have two sons, Samuel, five, and Charles, four. They moved to Sedalia Aug. 4, and are residing at 1002 East 11th Street. They are members of the Christian Church, Masonic Lodge and Eastern Star. Both Trooper Morris and Mrs. Morris are natives of Boonville. ************************

The decommissioning of the VOR station, which provides a radio beacon used by air craft to land at specific points in this area, has been debated for almost two years.

The Blackwater station provides instrument-equipped planes with data for landings during overcast weather conditions.

The FAA reportedly wants to close the station as an economic measure. Local officials, including Mayor Ralph Walker, contend, however, that the VOR facility is vital to Sedalia

There is apparently a regulation which states that an airport serving three instrument-rated pilots qualifies for a VOR station. This is one of the key points which will probably be debated Friday. Pilots using the Sedalia

Memorial Airport are expected to attend the hearing and express their views concerning the closing of the station. William Hall, Sedalia

Industrial Development director, has been in close contact with various elected officials in an effort to prevent decommissioning of the station. He has said that without the station, larger planes using instruments for landings will not be able to land here if skies are overcast, or during storms Among planes which would be prevented from touching down here in such cases would be those of Mo-Ark Airlines, the Menefee Construction Co. plane, a plane used by Town & Country Shoes, Inc., and aircraft which the new Olin-Mathieson Co. plant is expected to use here. Some alternate proposals have been discussed, such as the part-time VOR station at Whiteman AFB, but none have been termed adequate for local matching basis. The money comes from various federal outdoor recreation fees, proceeds from the sale of federal surplus property and the federal motorboat fuels tax.

The driver of this 1966 Chevrolet, David Woods, 75, Independence, received a crushed chest and head lacerations when the car struck a bridge abutment two miles east of Otterville on Highway 50 about 1.20 p.m. Wednesday. Woods was taken to Bothwell Hospital in a Ewing ambulance. Woods is in critical condition. The Highway Patrol said Woods apparently went to sleep while driving. Progress on Streets

Have you ridden over West Fourth Grand avenue? No. Then you are in for a surprise. A substantial thickness of blacktop now covers the old and holey brick pavement. What a relief to motorists.

This is just one of the numerous projects of the Street and Alley department. Another will be smoothing out Missouri avenue soon between Second and Third streets. This used to be a portion of U.S. Highway 65 which took an awful beating from truck and other traffic before the highway route was changed to its present location through the west end of town.

Innumerable holes in streets all over Sedalia are being plugged as the department operates in high gear. Councilman Walter Jessee, chairman of the Street and Alley committee, put it mildly when he reported to City Council the department "was getting along fairly well with street improvements."

It looks like superb progress to us even though there is a lot more to be done. Evidence indicates this department has diligent personnel under good management.

There's an expression in newspaper lingo about a type of headline which is dull or has inadequate relationship to the subject matter in the story. It's called a "wooden head."

This is in contrast with the lively street lately from Kentucky avenue to headline which attracts the reader to the content of the article. The title of a sermon subject can perform the same function. The church pastor who produces a few magnetic words for his sermon title may invite more listeners.

> A friendly correspondent writes: "On Fridays I turn to the Democrat's church page to see what my pastor will preach about on Sunday. He doesn't know it but most of the time his subject sounds so interesting I can hardly wait for Sunday morning to come.'

The subject of flowers being removed from graves in Sedalia's cemeteries has been discussed several times here the past few years, but this comment from our observing correspondent sends chills up a person's spine:

'Several years ago a friend informed me there was a woman in Sedalia who always had lovely bouquets in her living room. When asked where she got them she replied that she just watched the newspaper and after a funeral and burial she would go to the cemetery and get the flowers from the grave. That way she had flowers the year round. I hope she doesn't live in Sedalia anymore. She must have been a sick person to do that."

Sick? What a tender word!

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Arkansas Senator Protects CATV

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON - Sen. John McClellan, D-Ark., has one of the highest bile counts on Capitol Hill, and his dour expression gives authority to his image as the Senate's chief investigator.

With a terrible wrath, he has become the scourge of labor racketeers, gambling operators and vice lords-except those who had the foresight to conduct their business in his native Hot Springs,

While McClellan has been crusading against crime and labor, however, he has scrupulously avoided any investigations that might embarrass big business. Indeed, he has been the intrepid champion of the banks, oil companies and other special interests.

Occasionally he has turned up with financial investments in some of these same institutions.

-CATV CONFLICT-

His latest maneuver, which he has conducted in the back rooms rather than the hearing rooms of Congress, is to seek an unprecedented, 18-month moratorium on copyright lawsuits against the CATV industry.

CATV companies bring network television programs into areas which might not otherwise be able to pick them up. This is done by trapping television signals from distant cities and piping them into homes for a subscription fee. Performers and writers whose works are being pirated have started to make noises about suing the CATV companies for

To head off the threatened suits, the CATV attorneys drafted a bill which would bar copyrights suits until Jan. 1, 1969. A draft of the bill, entitled "Temporary suspension of judicial remedies," was slipped to McClellan, who promised to introduce it.

As chairman of the judiciary subcommittee on patents, trademarks and copyrights, he is in a unique position to steer the bill through the Senate. He has already served notice on colleagues that he is a friend of the CATV industry.

"I will oppose anything I think will destroy CATV." he has said.

He has neglected to mention to his colleagues, however, that he holds valuable stock in one of the CATV giants-Midwest Video, which has outlets in Mississippi, Missouri, New Mexico, South Dakota and Texas. His late son and son-in-law were also among the early stockholders.

-BANKING CONFLICT-

Probably nothing can get McClellan out of his Senate chair faster, however, than a challenge to the banks. He has bitterly opposed the chartering of new national banks, which would give the old-line banks some competition.

When a group attempted to establish a new bank in West Memphis, Ark., 11 years ago, he helped the Ten years later, McClellan attempted to block another group from chartering a bank in West Memphis, and also opposed the establishment of a new national bank in Little Rock. He forwarded letters to the then comptroller James Saxon, opposing both charters.

But Saxon happened to favor more bank competition. Enraged, McClellan held hearings into the failures of three newly chartered banks and used these unusual cases to discredit all new charters.

He also appeared before the American Bankers Association convention to charge that "too many national banks are being unwisely chartered too fast

As he explained his views at a press conference, observers spotted among the reporters none other than B. J. Lambert, the West Memphis bank president

In all his fire-and-brimstone attacks on new charters, McClellan never mentioned that he was a stockholder in both the West Memphis bank and the First National bank of Little Rock, the two old-line banks fighting the charters. Indeed, McClellan is listed as one of the top 20 stockholders in First

-OIL CONFLICT-

It is also worth recalling how McClellan handled the great investigation into oil lobbying a few years ago. This was precipitated by a $2,500 bribe which bagmen for an oil company tried to hand to the late Sen. Francis Case, R-S.D., in a brown paper sack.

Senator Case exposed the clumsy bribe attempt, and Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., announced his elections subcommittee would investigate. Lyndon Johnson, then the Senate Majority Leader, kept after Gore for 10 days to relinquish jurisdiction to another less hostile committee.

LBJ finally succeeded in maneuvering the probe into McClellan's hands. This relentless investigator. who usually strikes terror in the hearts of wrongdoers hauled before his committee, treated the oil industry almost tenderly. The investigation dribbled along unspectacularly, then faded away without going beyond the Case incident. No one was embarrassed except those whom Case had already

Wave of Riots Is Damper On Congress' Exuberance

WASHINGTON - (NEA) -Humor has always been an integral part of the Washington scene—the politicking, the decision making.

In the White House, in the Pentagon, on Capitol Hill, in the State Department, there's always a good story or a good line or a funny scene every week - something to spread through the halls for a good laugh and something for reporters and newscasters to pepper their work for "a lighter touch.

But because of Newark and Detroit, Milwaukee and the threat of the next ghetto riot, humor today in Washington is hard to find.

"I haven't laughed in two weeks," said Rep. Albert Quie (R-Minn.).

Q-I am a housewife, 67. When my elimination slows down I fill up with gas. Please don't advise me to take salts or castor oil because they make me sick.

A-I would not advise these or any other laxatives because they would increase your gas production rather than relieve it. That is because they sweep the food from your small intestine into your colon before the sugars and starches have had time to be completely digested and absorbed into your blood. In the colon they are met by fermentative bacteria. Gas is a product of fermentation. Worry about slow elimination, which is not harmful in itself, is probably the chief cause of your

Q-I am taking Mylicon for gas. What does this drug contain? Can it be taken indefinitely?

A-Mylicon is the trade name for simethicone. It is a defoaming agent used to relieve habitual air swallowers and persons with irritable colon or other conditions in which gaseous distention is a problem. There are no known side effects so, if it helps you, you can take it indefinitely.

Q-What causes my stomach to gurgle when I am in bed at night?

A-The gurgling is in your intestines rather than your stomach. It may occur any time when a mixture of liquid and gas is swept along by the peristaltic waves in your intestines. Gas production can be greatly reduced by taking only enough vegetable and fruit each day to keep your stools as thick as the width of two fingers and firm. If your problem is colitis you will need expert management by a gastroenterologist.

Q-What is meant by funnel vision? Can it be corrected by an operation? What would cause it to occur in a child of 12? Could it be due to a concussion or to a hereditary defect?

A-I assume you are referring to tunnel or tubular vision in which one can see only what is directly in front of one and nothing out of the corner of the eye. It may be associated with advanced glaucoma, retinitis pigmentosa (both serious diseases) or conversion reaction (sometimes called hysteria). For the first two there is no treatment and the treatment would not be by operation in any case

In a child of 12 glaucoma is most unlikely. Retinitis pigmentosa is a hereditary disease that has its onset in childhood. A concussion in a person of any age may cause a conversion reaction. Treatment of this cause by a psychiatrist (not psycholanalyst) may be helpful but the results cannot be guaranteed.

Johnson Facing Policy Criticism

By JAMES MARLOW

AP News Analyst WASHINGTON 4P) - Around his head the doves coo and the hawks caw and President Johnson plods along, keeping the war going, send ing in more men, asking a tax boost to help pay the bill. This week a dove and a hawk swooped at the same time, and nothing illustrates better the fix he's in.

The dove was one of Johnson's fellow Democrats Sen. J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas, chairman of the Senate's powerful Foreign Relations Committee. Fulbright, Johnson's most persistent critic, wants the war toned down.

The hawk was the leader of House Republicans Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, who has backed the President consistently on the war. But he, too, has been a critic, constantly complaining that Johnson wasn't fighting it hard enough or explaining enough. He wants the war intensified. Fulbright has read many ominous things into the war and this week came up with a new one. He linked Vietnam with the Negro riots in this country, saying "the 'Great Society' has become a sick society by trying to cope with Vietnam and the riots at the same time. "Each war feeds on the other," he said. "At home largely because of neglect resulting from 25 years of preoccupation with foreign involvements, our cities are exploding in violent protest against generations of social injustice."

He asked, "How can we commend democratic social reform in Latin America when Newark, Detroit a d Milwaukee are providing explosive evidence of our own inadequate efforts at democratic social reform?"

Although both Johnson and Fulbright are Southerns. Johnson was the master pilot in getting civil rights legislation through Congress repeatedly while Fulbright voted against every civil rights bill approved by Congress in this century-1967, 1960, 1964 and 1965.

And in 1956 Fulbright, along with 95 other Southern Democrats, signed the Southern Manifesto denouncing the Supreme Court's 1954 decision outlawing segregation and pledging by "all lawful means" to have it reversed.

Johnson was banged from the opposite direction when Ford demanded intensification of the bombing of North Vietnam. He objected to sending one more American to Vietnam until the President ends the restraints on U.S. bombing missions against

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said in defense of the administration that Ford was ignoring the American objective which is not to broaden the war and not to waste American lives on bombing missions against targets considered insignificant. By broadening the war McNamara undoubtedly meant such intensified bombing that Red China might jump in to bail out North Vietnam. Ford was calling for heavier action against the Communists early in 1965, before this country had begun the steady bombing of the North. This has been a repeated theme of Ford's. Johnson thought he had done a pretty good job of explaining the war to the American people in a speech he gave at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore in April 1965. But Ford has followed a line which probably His only worry was if one irritates Johnson more than Ford's complaints that rat now," said one congress- opponent held three clubs. the war isn't tough enough: That's a steady plea that He didn't know anything Johnson explain the war and the American position

In fact, Ford started doing that two days after Johnson made his Baltimore speech. For some reason Johnson, who has often talked about Vietnam, thinks he has given ample explanation. The fact is, his various statements on the war are not full length explanations. He has made very few v of those. More people than Ford are telling him so. It should be no surprise if he gives a long explanation some time soon.

Letter to Editor

L. L. STUDER (721 West Third St.); — It now appears in the press that members of City Council will make a study that may lead to the submission of a huge bond issue to build a new City Hall. Sedalia now has a fairly good City Hall of brick construction well located in the downtown area and with ample space provided for the various offices. It is true that the city police chambers and the council chambers are located on the second floor of the City Hall which makes it necessary for many of our citizens to use the stairways nearly every day. But there is no reason at all why they should not be located on the ground floor with an entrance from Second Street leading to 1,152 square feet of modern floor space with concrete floor, walls and ceilings which is not being used for anything except storage. During my four years term as Mayor of Sedalia, I tried my very best to have the Council members authorize the small expense necessary to locate the police and council chambers from the second floor to this modern location on the first floor. Council declined to do it. There is no doubt that it will require a hugh. bond issue to construct a new city hall but if such a bond is submitted to the voters, there is no doubt that it will be over-whelmingly defeated.

Campobello Shrine

The hundreds of tourists who daily visit the summer cottage at Campobello, New Brunswick, where the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt suffered paralysis, are most impressed with the red Dutch Colonial house. A total of 34 rooms is a fair sized cottage, but since the estate has become an international park, belonging to both Canada and the United States, the number of daily visitors is

The cottage became famous when it was the scene of the motion picture "Sunrise at Campobello," starring Ralph Bellamy and Greer Garson as Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt. Elliot Roosevelt sold the property to the Hammer family (New York art dealers) in 1952. It was through the generosity of the Hammers that Campobello was donated to the two nations as a memorial to F.D.R. The cottage, although on British soil, was the summer home of the late President's parents for many years until it was given to Franklin by his mother. The five Roosevelt grandchildren and their children spent their summers there for many years. It was symbolic that the Queen Mother Elizabeth was the first official visitor to the new Reception Center which has been built since Campobello became an international park in 1963.

There are no souvenir shops at Campobello; the big old house is what people come to see. Committee chairmen of the park alternate between American and Canadian officials.

"Hosteling Brochure" (free). It lists 39 bargain trips which groups of young swingers can take in this country and abroad. "Farm and Ranch Vacation Guide." This one describes some 300 spots for vacationing down on the farm; even lists the pigs and cows on each farm.
